To Whom It May Concern:

The Ox Box washing/ice maker boxes have been a very successful and unique product for our company as well as our clients. The flexibility of its installation options has solved a long term, yet an unmet problem for the company. Specifically, it gives us the ability to split the boxes apart for stacked washer/dryer applications. In addition, the unique over the stud application has eliminated call backs on wobbly installations. Before the Ox Box, we did not have a real solution for this problem, but now all of our installations are much more secure and solid. With its versatility, we can now offer our clients several different installation options to meet their varying needs.

Thank you,
