

To put it simply the ox box is a superior product.

Its flexibility means no longer do I have to try and fit the water lines and drain line in the same bay. Its strength of the mounting bracket means I am able to install the box and know it will make it through the drywall stage with out damage. At the finish stage I don't have to go hunting for the correct covers because one fits all with Ox Box. Again it's just another great product from Sioux chief.

Sincerely,
